CARRIES ON"

(Associated Press)
WASHINGTOM, Mar. 4.—Bright and cold blustering March was inauguration day. Over a win in temperature made it uncomfortable for the men who came early in the forenoon at the capital plaza
where Harding took his place near the inaugural address.
At 8 o'clock and breakfast Mr. Harding in their New Willard Hotel.
Wilson Faded Out
Wilson arose at 8 o'clock,
aged as the result of working on bills and other official Dr. Grayson and members of his family continued
to discuss him taking a part in the day's ceremonies.

His official program opened with arrival of the congressional committee, headed by Senator and Representative Cannon and their wives were joined by President and Mrs. Wilson up Pennsylvania Avenue
showing throngs to the capi-

Knox and Cannon. The Marshall, Coolidge and two of the inaugural committee,
Mrs. Harding, Mrs. Wilson, and their wives; the fourth and fifth, Mr. Coolidge and two of his family, all were accompanied by cavalry. Pennsylvania was silent with color and by infantry one hundred
start with fixed bayonets.
A thousand people were on the side-

Wilson Shows Illness
There was some delay at the White House while the president-elect waited from the front door.
He was leaning on his cane but was massaged. He was down the steps and into the attendants, who placed his feet succeeding step as the defense. This outward evidence of the president's physical condition another bit of speculation as to how far he would go in participating in the ceremonies at the After Harding and other members of the party entered, Wilson left the automobile moved as Miss Margaret Wilson and of Mrs. Wilson's family
from a window directly above
the entrance.

Wilson Leaves Early
George G. Harding took the oath as President of the United States at 11:30 p.m. pressing his lips against the historic Bible used in the ceremony of George Washington.
The president repeated the oath
Chief Justice Whiting. President Harding to last minute entered his family and physicians, took in the ceremonies other than Harrison to the capitol,
after signing of bills, going to his home on S Street. After taking the oath, Harding delivered his first address.

He took the oath of vice president at 12:21, Wilson's decision not to make the ceremony was due to the steps to the chamber. He had thrown him down, but he had gone to fall down. Harding then said good bye to

WILSON KILLS BILLS
(United Press)
WASHINGTON, Mar. 4.—The revision bill and army appropriation measure were killed by the veto of President Wilson.
He indicated his refusal to sign the measures a few days before retiring from of-ice.

A WORD OF COMMENDATION

Amid the efforts of the Seabreeze Library Association to open a reading and rest room for Seabreeze, one of the things that strikes the camera to the Triple Cities, is the spirit of hopefulness and patriotic citizenship that prevails. He is not here long before he learns that this patriotic optimism is based upon tangible local realities, important but permanent assets. It is an expectation of permanent increase and tourist attractiveness. And one thing to do is to get ready for the coming tide.

Seabreeze with the others, is looking forward to real growth in the near future and is getting ready to supply in every way the needs of the coming tourists. The Seabreeze Library Association, Rev. Canon Bryan, president; Mrs. B. A. Berard, secretary; Mrs. A. W. Powers, treasurer, has launched a campaign for the raising of necessary funds. A most desirable lot, central, convenient and ample, and at a most reasonable price, has been offered as a site, and the intention is to locate on this several suitable buildings, containing library, offices with reading and rest room attached, if only the funds can be raised to carry through the project. That it is a popular move is evidenced by the liberal patronage given the entertainments given under the auspices of the association. Over $100, half the proceeds from a performance given by Leibhart Reynolds at the Seabreeze Opera House recently, has been added to the funds. The benefit caravans at the Geneva hotel, Seabreeze also brought in a very acceptable sum. Other benefits will be given, but while some encouraging donations have been made, the purchase of such a lot as described, liberal subscriptions must be made by those who wish to see the enterprise carried through.

An energetic committee has the work in hand and in due time will call upon friends who recognize the need of the library and the benefit it will be to Seabreeze. We wish this needed enterprise every success.

A CITIZEN.

You will miss it if you fail to get in the Baptist Roundup, Sunday, Mar. 8th. 605-3-24-1.

D.A.R. To Place
a Bronze Tablet
In Burgoyne Park

The Abigail Bartholomew Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, are planning to place a bronze tablet in Burgoyne Park in honor of the men from the Triple Cities who served in the World War. Since this is a fund which belongs to each and every resident of our three cities, it is desired that contributions should come for this work from each individual. A box will be placed in the diners, dry goods store and other places, however small, will be appreciated. The ladies of the Palmetto club have generously headed the list with $25. As the object is certainly most patriotic it is expected that general and patriotic citizens will respond generously.

are seven members each at $12,000 each.
The interstate committee at $12,000 each.
The general reserves three members of $7,500 each.
Several trade committees, some of the nine
and railroad labor board and four members of the labor board at $10,000
each.

The Supreme Court Justices are appointed by President Chief Justice White and Justices McKenna, Holmes,
and Brandeis, by both members to voluntary responsibility of the chief just
and that of associate members.

The Transportation Act.

The Merchant Marine Act.

The Edge bill for foreign finance corporations.

The oil and gas leasing laws.

The group reorganization act.

The water-power development bill.

A bill abolishing the United States
Hoarding Corporations.

In addition the usual annual supply measures were put through and preliminary ground work was laid by the House of Ways and Means Committee for revising both the tariff and tax laws.

There were three sessions of the Sixty-fifth Congress. The first, an extraordinary one called by President Wilson by cable from Paris after failure of some of the big appropriation measure in the preceding Congress,
met on May 19, 1919, and continued just six months, to November 19. The second session, a regular one, began on December 1, 1919, and continued to June 3, 1920, ending just before the national political conventions. The third and final session began last December 6. Including the sessions during the war and earlier, Congress has been sitting virtually in continuous session for a decade.

The Versailles treaty was the great bone of contention during both the first and second sessions. It was twice defeated, first on November 19, 1919, and again on March 18, 1920, when by a vote of 47 to 37, it was returned to President Wilson. The Knox resolution to end the state of war with Germany then was adopted and on May 27, 1920, killed by a presidential veto.

The treaty debate began May 23,
1919, four days after the new Congress convened. The treaty was reported to the Senate, with the Lodge amendment, September 4, 1919, and Senate cloture rule adopted, for the first time since its existence on November 13. During the fight, President Wilson made a tour of the country, beginning September 3, 1919, which ended with his illness September 28.

At the second session bi-partisan conferences of Senate leaders failed to bring an agreement on reserves
and with debate renewed in February 1920, the final vote on ratification March 19 was 49 to 35, less than the two-thirds majority. The national security conventions and the popular "league referendum" followed. No effort was made to obtain action on the treaty during the session which ended today.

The first session was signalized by efforts to deal with the high cost of living. At that session also Congress conferring the permanent rank of general upon General Pershing, but negotiating to pass bills giving Major General March, chief of staff, and Colonel former provost marshal general
the rank of Lieutenant general.

Bills to give permanent rank of admiral to Rear Admirals Benson and Fiske also failed.

Also during the first session, Victor Borgelt, the Wisconsin Socialist, was unseated by the House and during the second session he again was defeated after his re-election at a special election.

At the second session the House passed bills to provide a bonus for war veterans and to amend the tariff and internal revenue laws to protect luxury and other taxes—but not ratified in the Senate, which at that session also rejected President Wilson's proposal for an American monetary system.

The third and last session was designated principally for appropriation bills, with economy as the watchword.

Huge slashes were made in departmental estimates by the sub-committees of the enlarged House Appropriations Committee, which for the first time handled all of the regular supply measures.

An emergency tariff bill designed to protect agriculture as well as an immigration bill to stem the flow of immigrants from Europe was passed by the House, but they failed in the Senate.

When that was concluded the Senate returned to its chamber for the second session called by the retiring President to consider nomination of officials by President Harding and the new President started out with his council of ministers for the White House.

There he "hung up his hat" and
went to work.

Campbell—5 won, 4 lost.
Rumbrock—5 won, 2 lost.
Merritt—5 won, 3 lost.

Suitable prizes were presented
these four winners by Prof. Potter,
who noted as master of ceremonies, to
a few friends remarks which kept
the crowd in good humor.

Although the number of entries
was small, the plays were of deep interest
to the spectators especially when the final play-off took place between Campbell and Rumbrock, each
having made 6 points at the end of
the seventh game.

A shuffle board tournament will be held on Thursday, March 10 and a
croquet tournament on Thursday,
March 17.

The words of praise exchanged by the management in their effort to add in every way
the pleasure of the guests.

BURGOYNE GAMES CLUB

The Burgoynes Games club held its annual tournament on the grounds of the club yesterday afternoon with the following entries: G. M. Campbell, Walter Cates, N. Deering, L. P. Mather,
W. H. Merritt, E. T. Morris, T. W.
Rumbrock, John Reiter, F. Rumbrock, L.
Sandström, H. V. Spearman, J. R.
Shaw.

Eight games were played and after the 4th games—no play having been possible—were eliminated two at a time.

Those remaining for the eighth and last game were Messrs. Campbell, Mather, Merritt and Rumbrock. At the close of this game the score stood as follows:

Campbell—5 won, 4 lost.
Rumbrock—5 won, 2 lost.
Merritt—5 won, 3 lost.

Suitable prizes were presented
these four winners by Prof. Potter,
who noted as master of ceremonies, to
a few friends remarks which kept
the crowd in good humor.

Although the number of entries
was small, the plays were of deep interest
to the spectators especially
when the final play-off took place between Campbell and Rumbrock, each
having made 6 points at the end of
the seventh game.

A shuffle board tournament will be
held on Thursday, March 10 and a
croquet tournament on Thursday,
March 17.

INAUGURATION TODAY, SIMPLICITY ADDED TO ITS IMPRESSIVENESS

which converge there. Most of these thousands were able to hear the inaugural address as Mr. Harding's voice was carried far out by means of sound amplifying devices installed
on the platform.

When the official part arrived at the capital it was escorted into a room off the Senate chamber and the vice president and Mrs. Coolidge went to the vice president's room to await the beginning of the ceremonies in the Senate chamber. President Wilson was in his room at the capital standing his which had been passed in the closing hours of the Sixty-fifth Congress.

Senate galleries had been filled long before this hour. Invited guests of the new President, Vice President, Speaker and Justices of the Supreme Court of the United States, with covert cards of admission, were assigned to the east side. Guests of senators were assigned to the north gallery and guests of representatives to seats in the three west rooms.

The party in the galleries was little less distinguished than that on the floor. It was composed of American women scarcely less known than their husbands taking part in the ceremony
below; families of foreign diplomats and men and other women in the fate of the social life of the nation.

While the Senate was assembling for its special session, the first of the 67th Congress, the diplomatic corps was arriving and assembling in the marble room, to be escorted into the chamber.

Gorgeous in the colors and gold of their court uniforms, the corps entered headed by its dean, the Ambassador of France, Jules J. Jusserand.

The other diplomats entered by notice in the order of the time they have been accredited to this country the ambassadors coming first and the ministers last.

Next came the Chief Justice and the Associate Justices of the Supreme Court in the simple black gowns
of office, moving slowly and dignifiedly to the places reserved for them in chairs placed in the front row, then the vice-president and at his right.

Immediately afterward, the members of the House of Representatives were announced. A seat was placed on the rostrum for Speaker Gilbert at the left of Vice President Marshall. The representatives filed through the chamber to places reserved for them on the west side while the senators were seated on the east.

President-elect Harding, escorted by the committee on arrangements, entered the Senate chamber at the main door and was escorted to the seat on the floor on the right hand side of the main aisle overlooking the caucuses. Vice President Coolidge was seated to a seat on the left of the vice-president.

The Senate chamber, the Rev. J. J.
Muir offered prayer and the Senate of the 67th Congress was called to order by Vice President Marshall. An silence settled over the chamber. Vice President Coolidge stood beside Mr.
Marshall, both men raised their right hands. Mr. Marshall slowly spoke the vice-president's oath, the new vice-president repeated the words and then delivered his address.

While the new senators were being sworn in the members of the past began moving off to their places ward the rear corridor. All of the guests in the galleries, by permission of the chairman, were permitted to move about along the round rooms in these which converge at the main entrance. The guests were in their places before Mr. Harding appeared on the speakers' desk, a small iron platform with a recessed can-opy above housing the sound amplifying instruments. The whole was covered with flags and bunting.

As they came out of the capital the company from the Senate passed through a line of guests to places near the capital steps and under the east portion back of the presentable parts. Mr. Harding was accompanied by Chief Justice White of the Supreme Court and the Congressional Committee, which had seats on the platform
with him.

Then before a great sea of humanity, official and unofficial, invited and uninvited, Mr. Harding recited the oaths in the left of the chief justice and at the right of the arrangements committee. The assembling of the presidential party, its departure and the demonstrations of the crowd were the only spectacular features of the outdoor ceremony. Simplicity and solemness marked the entire ceremony itself.

When the President takes the inaugural oath, the chief justice, Bible in hand, steps forward. The man who is about to take oath stands beside him with raised hand. Slowly and solemnly the chief justice repeats the oath prescribed by the constitution.
The President kisses the open Bible and the ceremony is over save for the delivery of the President's inaugural address.

When that was concluded the Senate returned to its chamber for the
second session called by the retiring President to consider nomination of
officials by President Harding and the
new President started out with his
council of ministers for the White House.

There he "hung up his hat" and
went to work.

During Mr. Coolidge's official red-

MASSACHUSETTS MAN PRESIDES OVER ALL CONGRESS BRANCHES

By intellectual preference Vice President Coolidge has since early youth demonstrated a taste for problems of statecraft. As a senior at Amherst he won the $150 gold medal in competition with students of all American colleges for the best essay on an historical subject, which in his case was "The Principles of the American Revolution." Burke and other political leaders of intellectual distinction have always been his favorites, and he has studied carefully
their writings.

It was this intense study of affairs of state that first attracted him the attention of prominent Republican leaders, notably the late Senator W.
Murray Cranes of Massachusetts. For a number of years these watched the development of his career with a view to directing him into the national arena. Their opportunity came when the spectacular Boston police strike, during his first term as governor, attracted nation-wide attention.

The crisis which was precipitated by the strike, according to these friends, merely revealed the powers and courage of the man, and they frankly and openly seized the opportunity to press for him claims for the Republican presidential nomination at Chicago last June. They pointed out that as councilor in his home city
and later as city solicitor and mayor, as a member of both branches of the legislature, including a term as president of the Senate and then as Lieutenant-governor and finally as governor he had been elected with ever in crossing majorities culminating in the vote of confidence after the police strike when he was again elected governor by a plurality of 126,000.

Probably the most attractive part of Mr. Coolidge is his home life. Ever since his marriage 15 years ago to Miss Grace Goodhue of Burlington, Vt., a University of Vermont graduate whom he met as a school teacher in Northampton, he has lived a quiet modest life, most of the time in the shadow of Smith college in a house which he has rented for $250 a month.

Save, no matter what your salary
may be, has always been his motto,
and as he has enjoyed beyond the income earned in public office only meager returns from his law practice because of pressure of public duties
he has been obliged and content to live simply. There are two boys in their early teens, but all do their own work to mow the lawn.

During Mr. Coolidge's official red-

"Strangler" Lewis Retains Championship in Greatest Match Seen in Daytona

Securing two falls on LeMarin, the first within 42 minutes with a headlock and the second within 17 1/2 minutes with a combination hold Nelson and a crutch hold.

Both men were in the very pink of condition and the Canadian deserved much credit for the show he made against the champion.

A nice crowd attended the match although many seats were empty, and many more could have been accommodated. It was announced during the evening that this championship bout is the stepping stone to cleaner and finer wrestling in Daytona, and that the National Guards, who staged the Lewis-LeMarin bout, will present bouts of this caliber with the best wrestlers of the country competing in the near future.

The National Guards in securing a world championship wrestling match for a small town have mounted many obstacles in the way, and they can not be too highly praised for this achievement.

Jean Mandeloff, of Chicago, former wrestler and boxer referred the championship match and proved his knowledge of the game and fairness, winning the unanimous support of the crowds in the first fall several times. LeMarin showing wonderful ability to break away from the holds of the champion.

Then again, Lewis, trying to throw his man without employing the sleep-producing headlock, had LeMarin within the realm of the first fall several times, LeMarin showing wonderful ability to break away from the holds of the champion.

Afterwards, the ninth obtained in rapid succession by the champion, brought his opponent to the floor, and with the appliance of his powerful arm leverage across the temples of his opponent's head, the champion secured the sleep-producing effect. LeMarin dazed for a few seconds after the champion had loosened the hold at the fall.

Although fast and hotly contested, the second fall came more easily to the champion, the headlock having sapped the vitality from his opponent. The champion did not attempt to employ his headlock the second time.

The following events are scheduled for tomorrow's races:

Two mile straightaway, six-furlong stock cars, three heats. First prize Windsor hotel silver loving cup, and prize box of cigars.

Four mile turn race, three heats. First prize Daytona Beach hotel silver loving cup; second prize box of cigars.

Ladies' seats will go on sale at $2.00 plus war tax, with general admission at $1.50 plus war tax. Since the National Guards have shown conclusively by the great wrestling match Thursday evening that they are working toward cleaner and better sporting exhibitions in this city, it is thought that a good crowd of fans will turn out to witness these bouts, which promise to be the best yet staged.

The champion did not attempt to employ his headlock the second time.

JAM UP PROGRAM OF RACE EVENTS FOR SATURDAY

Featuring two "Cracker Cowgirl" horse races, hurdle and running, two championship bicycle races, and the usual line of thrilling automobile races, the amateur racing classics on Daytona Beach tomorrow afternoon promises to draw a record crowd of spectators and contestants.

It is expected that a Pittie camera man will be present to "shoot" more scenes of the thrilling races, and to catch "shots" of the "Cracker Cowgirls" on their fast steeds.

Word from the various drivers show that the races tomorrow will contain an unusual amount of speed and pep, as several new cars and drivers, and one or two outsiders are again expected to enter and try their luck at running away with all first honors. The old timers have been unusually engaged during the latter part of the week turning up their "gas gardens," and are prepared to hold up their hard won reputation for fast driving.

Whiggate and Walker, with their special Ford, will be on the track in first class condition, with new ignition plant installed, and a new brake application, so as to better manipulate the rear wheels when making one of the best turns.

Harrison Brothers have withdrawn their speedy little Hymobile special, but are expected to break out with a new special creation soon.

An aerial "cranks" exhibition and the regular ladies' race are also included on the program, along with two championship bicycle races, one for boys under 15 years of age and one for all handicap race. Gene and George Johnson have charge of these races, and award the prizes. These two races will be to decide the champion pedal pusher of the Halifax County, and it is expected that a number of boys will enter, making the races hotly contested.

Michigan Candy Manufacturer at the Seaside Inn

Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Duggan and Miss Hazel Duggan of Detroit, Mich., old friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Glenn and of the Beach, have arrived for an extended stay at the Seaside Inn.

Mr. Duggan, although past 70 years, appears like a man of 40. Five years ago he made up his mind to retire from active business, but only remained retired three months. This was enough of a rest for him, and since then he has been as active or more so than ever. He is the president of the Arctic Creamery company, the most extensive creamery and candy manufacturers in Michigan, with factories in both Detroit and Grand Rapids, having taken over the Kelley Candy company in the latter city some time ago.

When asked what Detroit people thought of the appointment of Captain Denby for secretary of the navy, Mr. Duggan replied with much enthusiasm: "No choice that could have been made would have suited them better. We feel he is just the man for the place. He was a real patriot during the war. Although a man of mature years, he volunteered as a private, and this proved a wonderful incentive for many others to go. He made good, as everyone knows, and he came home with a marvelous record. He is an excellent business man, has a spotless character and is one of our most beloved citizens. Just the man for the place."

When asked about Senator Newberry's predicament, he said: "Most Detroit people now feel sorry for him. He belongs to one of our best families. He was in the war and had two boys there also. We would like to see the matter so arranged so that he may escape a prison sentence."

"Business generally," said Mr. Duggan, "is beginning to pick up in Detroit and we are looking for a prosperous year along all lines."

DE MILLE QUARTET WILL BE ATTRACTION THIS EVENING

At the Auditorium this evening the DeMille Quartet will be the attraction as a regular assembly number.

An organization famous throughout Canada is the DeMille Male Quartette of Toronto, assisted by Miss Hilda Buckingham, brilliant pianiste. The personnel of the company is made up of all Canadians, residents of Toronto, the musical center of the Dominion and Canadian headquarters of the Colit-Alber Bureau.

The repertoire of the quartette includes selections from the great oratorios and operas, the choicest of the English, Scotch and Irish melodies, standard and popular songs. Not alone as a quartette do they excel, but in concerts, recitals, oratorios and opera selections, each individual member stands distinct, having been accorded marked recognition because of his virtuosity. A company supreme in personnel and superb in repertoire—a distinct addition to the list of fine concert organizations.

Mr. Hartwell DeMille has earned a continental reputation as high-class vocalist, and is recognized as one of the most brilliant baritones before the public. He is the organizer and manager of the quartette that bears his name and has selected a great person as W. Edmund Capps, tenor; Jas. L. Galbraith, tenor; Alfred J. Atkinson, basso; Miss Hilda Buckingham, pianist; graduate of the Toronto Conservatory of Music.

All have had wide experience in the concert field and have appeared before some of the largest chautauqua audiences both in Canada and the United States.

GEORGE P. JOHNSON SELLS ELECTRICAL SUPPLY END

George P. Johnson has just closed a deal with J. S. Crook, formerly of Detroit, Mich., by which the latter becomes the owner of the electrical supply department of the former's Main street store. Mr. Crook will add much to the stock in this line carried by Mr. Johnson and expects to have for sale a full line of electrical supplies and fixtures. He will occupy the same space in the Johnson store room as this portion of his stock has always occupied. Mr. Crook will have associated with him in business his son, Dean E. Crook. He has recently purchased a lot on Palmetto street and expects to begin the erection of a permanent home thereon very soon. He and his family have been coming here winters for several years and he has finally concluded to engage in business here and stay permanently.

At the Seaside Inn are registered: Miss Margaret Clark, Paris, Ky.; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. White and Miss Alice M. White, Cleveland, Ohio; Dr. Alice M. White, Boston, Charleston, and Mrs. Robert D. Bolton, Charleston, Tenn.; Mrs. Cliff Conger, Chattanooga, Tenn.; Mrs. W. G. Hubbard, Jacksonville, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Sonville, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Duggan and Miss Hazel Duggan, Detroit, Mich.

Saturday, March 5, between the hours of 3 and 6, the Camp Fire Girls will give a Rainbow tea at the home of Mrs. E. B. Putman on Halifax avenue. All are cordially invited. The proceeds will go toward the construction of the new Episcopal Mission.

D. J. Tracey Picked To Head Ticket at Beach Elections

At the Daytona Beach caucus held at the town hall last evening, a municipal ticket was nominated for various offices to be filled at the election of March 26, a strong ticket being selected, headed by D. Jefferson Tracey, councilman for the past four years.

About 60 voters were present to take part in the caucuses, the following ticket being selected:

For mayor, D. J. Tracey.
For councilmen, 2 years, Harry Thompson, Clarence Willard.

For councilmen, 1 year, Garth B. Young.

For clerk and tax assessor, Rhey L. Selden.

For tax collector, George A. Parker.

For town marshal, William Young.

For town treasurer, D. A. Weston.

Few of those nominated had any opposition at the caucuses, although it has been stated that petitions for other candidates will be circulated before election, assuring a spirited fight for several of the offices.

The slate selected is interesting in that the three councilmen nominated are all new men in the political arena at the beach. Harry Thompson of the Clarendon garage, Clarence Willard of the mechanical staff of the Daily News and Garth G. Young, proprietor of the Atlantic Pharmacy, B. A. Weston, stated for treasurer is also a new comer in the field, running to succeed H. G. Doolittle treasurer of Daytona Beach for many years.

Rhey Selden, as clerk and assessor, Gen. A. Parker as collector and W. D. Young as marshal are old timers in the political field, and had no opposition to the positions which they have filled a number of terms, and to which they are again aspiring.

D. Jefferson Tracey has served several terms as councilman in a most efficient and energetic manner, and it was the general opinion of the voters that he would be able in an even greater degree to serve the town as mayor. R. E. Niven refusing the nomination.

NEPTUNE HOTEL

At the Neptune hotel are registered:

Geo. A. Speer and wife, M. A. Speer; Mrs. Thomas Nobley, Sanford, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. M. M. May, Miss Adele May, Savannah, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. T. McElroy, Winchester, Ky.; Mrs. C. S. ### THE CAMP FIRE GIRLS ADDRESSED BY MISS KINNEY

On the evening of March 1 a number of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. N. T. Trench of 282 South Atlantic are now assisting them in fittingly observing the thirty-seventh anniversary of their wedding. It was on March 1, 1884, that Edith M. Ambler and Nelson T. Trench were pronounced man and wife at Palmer, Mass. They now live in Canton, Conn. Among those who enjoyed the good time and delicious refreshments were Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hood and William Anderson, Jewell, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Willis and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Williams and son, Stanley, of Glyde, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Willis of Wakeman, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. John Berry, Glenn, Mich.; Cora Crockett and Jessie Willis of Wakeman, Ohio.

THE CAMP FIRE GIRLS

ADDEDRESS BY MISS KINNEY

Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Parry, Harvey street, Miss Florence Kinney, assistant Bible teacher and student worker of the Billy Sunday party, addressed the Silver Beach Camp Fire Girls.

She stressed the importance of devoting one's time, talent and energy to things worth while. Her address was replete with interesting incidents, apt illustrations and charming stories.

Miss Kinney was identified with camp fire work as guardian of several groups previous to her connection with the Billy Sunday organization.

The girls were their picturesque ceremonial robes and were photographed with Miss Kinney in the center of the group.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Pointer to Spend Next Year Abroad

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Pointer are planning a most extended tour of the Orient, which will take them away from their beach home for at least a year, as they contemplate having some time in the spring for China and Japan, where they will make an extended tour of the Orient, then spend next winter season in Honolulu.

Mr. and Mrs. Pointer enjoyed a trip to Alaska last summer, occupying their home just north of the Hotel Clarendon this winter season.

FREE COAL IF YOU
DIG IT YOURSELF

International News Service.

PLANTING, Mar. 1—Coal is obtainable free here for all who care to dig it.

Contractors, grading on the Morris town state road, struck a vein of coal. When winter stopped work they offered persons who wanted coal the right to obtain it if they would dig it.

The offer resulted in material progress being made on that part of the road. The digging done by the persons who took advantage of the offer aided in completing the grading of the road.

Champion Golfers In Play Monday at Clarendon Course

Golf fans of the Triple Cities are in for the biggest treat of the season on Monday, when they are invited to follow a game on the Clarendon golf club course, between the two greatest players in the world today, match against a pair who have been playing speculating golf here this season.

Mike Brady of the Oakland Hills club of Detroit and Jim Barnes, champion of Florida, and holder of many other titles will be seen in action Monday at the Seabreeze course against A. L. Christie of the Clarendon club and Captain Chas. Clarke of the Englewood club, Roslyn, L. I.

Brady and Barnes are fighting it out for the Florida championship at St. Augustine this week, in the state tournament which will end tomorrow. Brady holds the course record on the Ancient City course, made last year when he beat all the big professionals of the country.

Barnes is playing the most phenomenal golf of his career at this time and is slated to carry off honors for America in the British open match, in which he will represent the American team in the season.

Capt. Clarke and Mr. Christie have been "burning em up" on the Seabreeze course this season, and should prove worthy opponents of Brady and Barnes in the game which commences at 2:30. The largest gallery of spectators is expected to be on hand to see the first real championship golf here this year.

Mrs. Emma Sims and her daughter, Mrs. Harry Combs of Tipton, Ind., are spending a few weeks at the Beach. They have just arrived from St. Augustine, and before returning home expect to visit Palm Beach, Miami, Key West and Cuba. They have been here long enough to become charmed with the Beach, and they have already made up their minds to make two visits to this place before they start North.

One of the delightful pictures to be shown at the Auditorium this year will be "Eve gelée," shown next Saturday night, March 5, as a picture on the assembly circuit. The photograph for this picture was done by the original sides told about in her great part, Longfellow. To enjoy the picture thoroughly it would be well for those who expect to attend to read the poem again and have all these scenes in mind so that when the picture is presented on Saturday night it will portray very clearly the thoughts that the poet had. This poem is an educational feature and will be appreciated by the masses of poetry and literature.

Mr. and Mrs. John Deane, who have been spending the winter here, have returned to their home in Rosedale, Ind.

Maud Ballington Booth Guest of Dr. and Mrs. Goss

Maud Ballington Booth, probably the queen of more hearts in the breasts of the poor and unfortunate than any other woman on earth, is just now the house guest of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Frederic Goss on Peninsula Drive, where she will remain until after Sunday.

At the Auditorium Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock this wonderful "Little Mother" as the hundreds of thousands she has befriended and helped in time of need, loves to call her, will be the speaker-guest of the open forum. There will be no admission charged as usual, and this will be the opportunity of a life time for the people of the Tropic Cities to hear this woman of marvelous eloquence and touching pathos. In the great work to which she has devoted her noble life, she has not only been the directing head, but the courageous leader. Her command has always been to come and not to go. For more than a quarter of a century she has been on the firing line herself. She has never asked for herself, but always for others. She has devoted her great abilities and fathomless love to making the whole world a better and a safer place to live in. Her boundless charity has brightened and lightened thousands of darkened homes and brought hope to countless thousands of disheartened and miserable "downs and outs."

In her platform manner and style of oratory, she is probably more like the late Frances Willard than any other famous person, however, her winning and commanding personality is all her own. She does not proceed far with her address until her listener realizes he is in the presence of a remarkable individuality and that he has never before been under the spell of a nobler influence.

As is generally known Mrs. Booth is at the head of the prison reform work in America and that she has reclaimed, to lives of industry and usefulness many hundreds of unfortunate who have worn the stripes of disgrace. In speaking of Mrs. Booth's great life work, Dr. D. H. Rutter of the Community Methodist church said: "Yes, she is one of the grandest personages of the world. Even in this state her own work has been marvelous. I happen to know something of her reform work among the prisoners of Florida and it does seem she must have been divinely destined for the matchless benefits she has brought to the unfortunate of mankind. It will certainly be an unusual privilege to hear her again on Sunday afternoon. There should not be a vacant space in all the spacious Auditorium when she arises to deliver her address which is always a masterful one."

Enrolled today you will notice are a few names heretofore unpublished of ladies in this section who just could not hold out any longer but had to enter and try their best for one of the prize automobiles. Instead of the interest abating as most folks would naturally think, it is growing with each day, and by the time that the campaign is well under way it will be known to everyone in this country and all over this section of the state.

LIBERAL—is what most everyone says of the drive, and how could they say more for if this is not a liberal campaign—well the News does not want to see one. Where have you ever experienced before such a chance as we are offering you—one in which you can win the huge amount of prizes as you can in this drive? "Never before" is what you will say and that is true, for this undoubtedly is the largest thing of its kind ever attempted in these parts.

As you will notice from the above list some of the candidates have started to work, and as the time is slowly drawing this campaign toward the very end, all are striving their level best to secure all the votes they possibly can. Owing to the fact that the campaign is really just starting many new nominations have come into the office, some of them too late for publication, but we expect to see the new candidates right out into the field bright and early. They say that they are going to make the rest of the candidates bustle if they intend to keep in the race.

As all of the candidates that have started in the race are running so very close together it would not be a hard matter for anyone to enter very day and by the next count of votes be leading the entire list. As you possibly know that each subscription counts thousands and thousands of votes in the race, so if you are really ambitious and want to win a prize that is more than worth the time you put forth, enter this campaign and get a few subscriptions and you will be surprised at the rapidity with which you climb up the ladder to fame and fortune.

Remember that between now and March 12th you get 110,000 extra votes on each and every bonus of $30 turned in before that date. But after that date the votes on each subscription must absolutely decrease, and then the candidate will see their mistake if they did not take proper advantage of the bonus offer while it was in force. Don't forget 110,000 extra votes over and above the regular schedule on each $30.00 turned in by any candidate before and including March 12th.

Another attractive feature of the campaign is the fact that anyone can enter regardless of where they live and anyone may win. All you have to do to win one of these cars is to do your best toward the securing of votes. In order to get these votes you must collect subscriptions to the Daily News and turn them in to the office at regular report days; then you will be credited with the amount of votes that go with every subscription and your totals made and placed with the rest.

Jump into the fray now and start to work; anyone can do it and anyone can win. If you would like to own a car of your own, enter this campaign now and win one of the cars that the News will give out on March 26th.

Musical Program at Palmetto Club Greatly Enjoyed

One of the largest attended and most enjoyed musical programs presented by the Music department of the Palmetto club, was given at the clubhouse Thursday afternoon, when the newly formed chorus, under the leadership of Miss Kate M. Hoteckin, rendered many exceptional musical numbers, and other members of the club delighted the audience with instrumental and vocal solos.

The stage on which the large chorus sat was artistically decorated with bamboo, fern and palms, and with the white dresses of the singers formed a most harmonious picture.

Sharing the credit with the chorus and Miss Hoteckin of having made the program one of the finest presented were, Mrs. Harry Snyder Shearer, accompanist, who layed her difficult part with much artistry and finish and Miss Mary Nelson, violinist, and Hazel Grinnell, soprano, who delighted the audience with their solos.

The musical program of Thursday took the place of the regular Palmetto club meeting, the Music department of the club having charge of the regular meeting once each winter season.

Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Power and Mrs. S. A. Addis, Mrs. Power's mother, of 349 Atlantic avenue, with their guests, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Kilworth, of Tacoma, Wash., left yesterday for a tour of other Florida resorts. They will visit Miami and the West Coast before their return. Mr. Kilworth is Mrs. Power's brother.

SHOULD PASTOR'S SON LEARN TO DANCE?

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, March 3.—Should a pastor's son attend dancing school?

This question is seriously troubling the members of the Berwyn Baptist church, where the Rev. H. F. Warner is sending his thirteen-year-old son, Henry, to dancing school where he is learning the foxtrot, the tango and other late music. Henry says he likes it, but some members of the congregation, it is reported, do not. A minister's son should be kept from such things, they declare.

Other members, however, friends of Pastor Warner ask why shouldn't Henry be allowed to dance and admit dancing themselves.

For Warm Spring Days

For a man to be dressed in Heavy Wool on a warm day is like carrying sulphur to Hades. No reason at all for you to swelter in moist agony when you can come here and select a Tropic-type Worsted Suit or a Palm Beach Suit or a Shantung Silk Suit cut our own way.

We have taken out hot linings, but left in smart lines. Good clothing is not a luxury, but an investment. We want to make the investment a sound one, lasting and profitable for every man buying clothing in this store.

CLARENDON
United States and Canada have been only feed and fraternity, and all are disturbed by the change. There are always a few people from the Dominion during the winter, and always welcome Americans more come people from any other state.

Mr. Heitzman has seen much of California, but says the climate there is not nearly so delightful as in Florida. He says that usually by 4 o'clock in the afternoon it begins to get cold. He says that there are not nearly as many people here from Canada as there would be except for the cost of exchange. Naturally people from the Dominion will go to the West Indies or to resorts where this is not demanded. No one wants to pay a 15 per cent exchange.

Mr. Heitzman says that the whole of Canada is developing wonderfully and that many agriculturists from the Dakotas and other parts of the Northwest are being attracted there by the great advantages offered. Toronto is now a city of nearly 600,000, and is rapidly growing.

Mr. and Mrs. Heitzman are enjoying life at the Clarendon, where they have made many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Palmer, who are old time friends of Seabreeze and the Hotel Clarendon have returned from a visit to Havana and will, for some time, enjoy the delights of the Triple Cities. They found the weather in Havana not hot nor northern. Mr. and Mrs. Palmer reside in Cleveland.

Mrs. E. A. Todd and her daughter, Miss Marjorie of Piqua, Ohio, have arrived at the Hotel Clarendon to remain for some time. They are friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Brown, also of Piqua, who have been at the Clarendon since early in January.

A pleasant luncheon party at the Clarendon on Wednesday consisted of Mr. and Mrs. A. Glass of Wheeling, Mr. and Mrs. Price-Jones, Mrs. and Miss Paton, Miss Hemans and J. H. deWitt of New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Kaufman of Kitchener, Canada, arrived at the Clarendon this week and will remain for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Gallagher of Toronto and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel O'Donnell of Indianapolis, Ind., arrived yesterday at the Clarendon and will be guests there for several days.

Mrs. W. E. McCord of Portland, Ore., and Mrs. Ida Chamberlain of San Diego, Calif., came up from DeLand Tuesday to spend several days at the Hotel Clarendon.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Compson of New York, who have been visiting Nassau, Palm Beach and Miami, have arrived at the Clarendon to spend the remainder of the season.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hamilton, who are frequent guests at the Clarendon, have been spending a few days in Palm Beach. They returned early in the week.

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Sexton of Chicago entertained a few friends at a "steak dinner" in the Lotus Grill Wednesday evening and enjoyed the dancing later. Their guests were Mrs. C. K. McFadden, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Rock and Roy Barker.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ted of Seabreeze will entertain about 20 friends Saturday evening and attend the Clarendon ball.

WINTER RESORTS

PRINCESS ISSENA

Mr. and Mrs. Artemus Ward of New York City arrived yesterday at the Princess Isseña. Mr. Ward is the son of the late Artemus Ward, the noted author. He is accompanied by his daughter and her husband, Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Winters, and they will remain for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. McFarland of Toronto are guests at the Princess Isseña. Mr. McFarland is the president of the Canadian Bell Telephone company.

from the Hotel Clarendon made the trip up the Tomoka and had a picnic dinner. The day was ideal and all report fine time.

Recent arrivals at the Clarendon:

Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Olson, Calais,

Me.; Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Smith, St. Stephens, N. B.; Mrs. W. S. Lewis of Hartford, Conn.; Mr. Shaw, Palmerston, W. Va.; Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Kleeman, Terre Haute, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. J. P. O'Connor, Toronto, Can., accompanied by Mrs. Sepansky and baby; W. F. Fenster and daughter, Miss Florence, of St. Louis; Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Kelly and Miss Margaret E. Gesell of Chicago.

Dog's Fur Overcoat

INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE.

LONDON, Mar. 3.—A King Charles spaniel in a stylish overcoat made of monkey fur, trimmed with blue silk ribbon, was the object of much interest in Bond street.

In the coat was a small pocket containing a lace hemstitched handkerchief, and from time to time the lady who he was chaperoning wiped his nose and replaced the handkerchief.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Kaufman of Kitchener, Canada, arrived at the Clarendon this week and will remain for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Gallagher of Toronto and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel O'Donnell of Indianapolis, Ind., arrived yesterday at the Clarendon and will be guests there for several days.

Supreme Task of America is the Resumption of Normal Conditions, Says Harding In Inaugural Today

WASHINGTON, Mar. 4—President Harding in his inaugural address said: "My Countrymen, when one surveys the world about him after the great storm, noting the marks of destruction and yet rejoicing in the ruggedness of the things which withstood it, if he is an American he breathes the clarified atmosphere with a strange mingling of regret and new hope. We have seen world passion spend its fury, but we contemplate our Republic unshaken and hold our civilization secure. Liberty—liberty within the law—and civilization are inseparable, and though both were threatened, we find them now secure and there comes to Americans the profound assurance that our representative government is the highest expression and surest guarantee of both."

Standing in this presence, mindful of the solemnity of this occasion, feeling the emotions which no one may know until he senses the great weight of responsibility for himself, I must utter my belief in the divine inspiration of the founding fathers. Surely there must have been God's intent in the making of this new world republic. Ours is an organic law which had but one ambiguity, and we saw that effected in a baptism of sacrifice and blood, with union maintained, the nation supreme and its concord inspiring. We have seen the world rivet its hopeful gaze on the great truths on which the founders wrought. We have seen civil, human and religious liberty verified and glorified. In the beginning, the old world scoffed at our experiment; today our foundations of political and social belief stand unshaken, a precious inheritance to ourselves, and inspiring example of freedom and civilization to all mankind. Let us express renewed and strengthened devotion, in grateful reverence for the immortal beginning and after our confidence in the supreme fulfillment.

Progress Proves Wisdom.

The recorded progress of our republic, materially and spiritually, in itself proves the wisdom of the inherited policy of non-involvement in old world affairs. Confident of our ability to work out our own destiny and jealously guarding our right to do so, we seek no part in directing the destinies of the old world. We do not mean to be entangled. We will accept no responsibility except as our own conscience and judgment in each instance may determine.

Our eyes never will be blind to a developing menace, our ears never deaf to the call of civilization. We recognize the new order in the world, with the closer contacts which progress has wrought. We sense the call of the human heart for fellowship, fraternity and co-operation. We crave friendship and harbor no hate. But America, our America, the America built on the foundation laid by the inspired fathers, can be a party to no permanent military alliance. It can enter into no political commitments nor assume any economic obligations or subject our decisions to any other than our own authority.

I am sure our own people will not misunderstand nor will the world misconstrue. We have no thought to impede the paths to closer relationships. We wish to promote understanding. We want to do our part in making of offensive warfare so hateful that governments and peoples who resort to it must prove the righteousness of their cause or stand as outlaws before the bar of civilization.

Association for Council.

We are ready to associate ourselves with the nations of the world, great and small, for conference, for counsel, to seek the expressed views of world opinion, to recommend a way to approximate disarmament and relieve the crushing burdens of military and naval establishments. We elect to participate in suggesting plans for mediation, conciliation and arbitration, and would gladly join in that expressed conscience of progress, which seeks to clarify and write the laws of international relationship, and establish a world court for the disposition of such justiciable questions as nations have agreed to submit thereto. In expressing aspirations, in seeking practical plans, in translating humanity's new concept of righteousness, justice and its hatred of war into recommended action we are ready most heartily to unite, but every commitment must be made in the exercise of our national sovereignty.

Since freedom impelled, and independence inspired and nationality exalted, a world super-government is contrary to everything we cherish and can have no sanction by our republic. It is not suspicion of others, it is patriotic adherence to the things which made us what we are.

Today, better than ever before, we know the aspirations of humankind and share them. We have come to a new realization of our place in the world and a new appraisal of our nation by the world. The unselfishness of these United States is a thing prove our devotion to peace for ourselves and for the world is well established, our concern for preserved civilization had had its impassioned and heroic expression. There was no American failure to resist the attempted reversion of civilization, there will be no failure today or tomorrow.

Rest on Popular Will.

The success of our popular government rests wholly upon the correct interpretation of the deliberate intelligent, dependable popular will of America. In deliberate questioning of a suggested change of national policy where internationality was to supersede nationality, we turned to a referendum to the American people. There was ample discussion and there is a public mandate in manifest understanding.

We contemplate the immediate task of putting our public household in order. We need a rigid and yet sane economy, combined with fiscal discipline and it must be attended by individual prudence and thrift which are so essential to this trying hour and reassuring for the future.

Reflection of War's Reaction.

The business world reflects the disturbance of war's reaction. Herein flows the life blood of material existence highly among any people of the world, we aspire to a high place in the moral leadership of civilization and we hold a maintained America, the proven republic, the unshaken temple of representative democracy, to be not only an inspiration and example, but the highest agency of strengthening the good will and promoting accord on both continents.

Mankind needs a world-wide benefaction of understanding. It is needed among individuals, among peoples, among governments, and it will inaugurate an era of good feeling to mark the birth of a new order. In such understanding men will strive confidently for the promotion of their better relationships and nations will promote the comities so essential to peace.

Trade Ties Bind Closely.

We must understand that ties of trade bind nations in closest intimacy and none may receive except as it gives. We have not strengthened ours in accordance with our resources or our genius, notably on our own continent, where a galaxy of republics reflect the glory of new world democracy, but in the new order of finance and trade we mean to promote enlarged activities and seek expanded confidence.

Perhaps we can make no more helpful contribution by example than move a republic's capacity to emerge from the wreckage of war. While the world's embittered travail did not leave us devastated lands nor desolated cities, left no gaping wounds, no breast with hate, it did involve us in the delirium of expenditure, in expended currency and credits, in unbalanced industry, in unspeakable waste and disturbed relationships. While it uncovered our portion of hateful selfishness at home, it also revealed the heart of America as sound and fearless, and beating in confidence unfailing.

Aid all we have visited the gaze of all civilization to the unselfishness and the righteousness of representative democracy, where our freedom never has made offensive warfare nor sought territorial aggrandizement through force, never has turned to the arbitration of arms until reason had been exhausted. When the governments of earth shall have established a freedom like our own and shall have sanctioned the pursuit of peace as we have practiced it, I believe the last sorrow and the final scathe of international warfare will have been written.

Our Supreme Task.

Our supreme task is the resumption of our onward normal way. Reconstruction, readjustment, restoration—all these must follow. I would like to have them fit it will lighten the spirit and add to the resolution with which we take up the task, let me repeat for our nation, we shall give no people just cause to make war upon us. We hold no national prejudices, nor entertain no spirit of revenge; we do not hate, we do not covet, we dream of no conquest, nor boast of armed prowess.

Prayer for Industrial Peace.

I wish for an America no less alert in guarding against dangers from within than it is watchful against enemies from without. Our fundamental law recognizes no class, no group, no section. There must be home in legislation or administration. The supreme inspiration is the common weal. Humanity hungers for international peace and we crave it with all mankind. My most reverent prayer for America is for industrial peace, with its rewards, widely and generally distributed amid the inspirations of equal opportunity.

No one justly may deny the equality of opportunity which made us what we are. We have mistaken unpreparedness to embrace it to be a challenge of the reality, and due concern for making all citizens fit for participation will give added strength of citizenship and magnify our achievement.

If revolution insists upon overturning established order, let other peoples make the tragic experiment. There is not place for it in America. When world war threatened civilization, we pledged our resources and our lives to its preservation, and when revolution threatens we unfurl the flag of law and order and renew our consecration. Ours is a constitutional freedom where the popular will is the law supreme and minorities are sacredly protected. Our revisions, re-formations and evolutions reflect a deliberate judgment and an orderly progress and we mean to cure ourills, but never destroy or permit destruction by force.

I had rather submit our industrial controversies to the conference table in advance than to a settlement table after conflict and suffering. The earth is thirsting for the cup of good will. Understanding is its fountain source. I would like to proclaim an era of good feeling amid dependable prosperity and all the blessings which attend.

Protection of Industries.

It has been proved again and again that we cannot, while throwing our markets open to the world, maintain American standards of living and opportunity and hold our industrial eminence in such unequal competition. There is a luring fallacy in the theory of banished barriers of trade, but preserved American standards require our higher production costs to be reflected in our tariffs on imports. To-day as never before, when peoples are seeking trade, restoration and expansion, we must adjust our tariffs to the new order. We seek participation in the world's exchanges, because therein lies our way to widened influence and the triumphs of peace. We know full well we cannot sell what we do not buy and we cannot sell successfully where we do not carry.

Opportunity is calling not alone for the restoration, but for a new era in production, transportation and trade. We shall answer at least by meeting the demand of a surpassing home market by promoting self-reliance in production and by building enterprises, genius and efficiency to carry our cargoes in American bottoms to the ports of the world.

An America of Homes.

We would not have an American but we would have her self-reliant, independent and ever nobler, stronger and richer. Believing in our higher standards, reared through constitutional liberty and maintained opportunities, we invite the world to the same heights. But pride in things wrought is no effect of accomplished task. Common welfare is the goal of our national endeavor. Wealth is not immune to welfare; it ought to be its triennial agency.

There never can be equality of rewards or possessions so long as the human plan contains varied talents and differing degrees of industry and thrift but ours ought to be a country free from great blottches of distressed poverty. We ought to find a way to guard against the perils and penalties of unemployment. We want an America of homes, illuminated with hope and happiness, where mothers, freed from the necessity to work hours of toil beyond their own doors, may provide as befits the hearthstone of American citizenship. We want the cradle of American childhood rocked under conditions so wholesome and so hopeful that no blight may touch it in its development and we want to provide that no selfish interest, no material necessity, no lack of opportunity shall prevent the gaining of that education so essential to best citizenship.

There is no short cut to the making of these ideals into glad realities. The world has witnessed, again and again, the futility and the mischief of ill-considered remedies for social and economic disorders. But we are mindful today as never before of the friction of modern industrialism and we must learn its causes and reduce its evil consequences by sober and tested methods. Where genius has made for great possibilities, justice and happiness must be reflected in a greater common welfare.

From Destruction to Production.

The forward course of the business cycle is unmistakable. Peoples are turning from destruction to production. Industry has sensed the changed order and our own people are turning to resume their normal onward way. The call is for productive America to go on. I know that congress and the administration will favor every wise government policy to aid the resumption and encourage continued progress.

One cannot stand in this presence and be unmindful of the tremendous responsibility. The world upheaval has added heavily to our tasks. But with the realization comes the surge of high resolve, and there is reassurance in belief in the God-given destiny of our republic. If I felt that there is to be sole responsibility in the executive for the America of tomorrow I should shrink from the burden. But here are a hundred millions, with common concern and shared responsibility, answerable to God and country. The republic summons them to their duty and I invite co-operation.

I accept my part with single-mindedness of purpose and humility of spirit and implore the favor and guidance of God and His beaten. With these I am unafraid and confidently face the future.

I have taken the solemn oath of office on that passage of holy writ wherein it is asked: "What doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justice and to love mercy and walk humbly with thy God?" This I plight to God and country.

Prayer for Industrial Peace.

I wish for an America no less alert in guarding against dangers from within than it is watchful against enemies from without. Our fundamental law recognizes no class, no group, no section. There must be home in legislation or administration. The supreme inspiration is the common weal. Humanity hungers for international peace and we crave it with all mankind. My most reverent prayer for America is for industrial peace, with its rewards, widely and generally distributed amid the inspirations of equal opportunity.

No one justly may deny the equality of opportunity which made us what we are. We have mistaken unpreparedness to embrace it to be a challenge of the reality, and due concern for making all citizens fit for participation will give added strength of citizenship and magnify our achievement.

If revolution insists upon overturning established order, let other peoples make the tragic experiment. There is not place for it in America. When world war threatened civilization, we pledged our resources and our lives to its preservation, and when revolution threatens we unfurl the flag of law and order and renew our consecration. Ours is a constitutional freedom where the popular will is the law supreme and minorities are sacredly protected. Our revisions, re-formations and evolutions reflect a deliberate judgment and an orderly progress and we mean to cure ourills, but never destroy or permit destruction by force.

I had rather submit our industrial controversies to the conference table in advance than to a settlement table after conflict and suffering. The earth is thirsting for the cup of good will. Understanding is its fountain source. I would like to proclaim an era of good feeling amid dependable prosperity and all the blessings which attend.

Pickett, aged about 55 years, has been making the beach his residence the past season, operating the gambling concessions at the foot of Main street which have been the show center of the beach for several months past. Pickett applied to the council for permission to run his concessions and was turned down. Shortly afterwards he was granted permission by a special committee.

It appears that Pickett, armed with its permission to operate on the beach, sold a number of his concessions at the rate of $300 each and some of those who purchased one or more are now complaining that they were not stocked according to agreement and claim they have been cheated out of their money. They are threatening to "get" Pickett or their money, when the marshall returns with his man today.

When it was found that Pickett had taken leave unexpectedly at the end of the week, Mrs. Dora Bond, of the Dixie Hotel restaurant, swore out a warrant for his arrest in which she charged him with leaving a large board bill behind. Pickett was located in Jacksonville by Marshall Young, by telegraph, the Jacksonville police holding him until Young arrived there at noon today to return him this afternoon. He will later be given a hearing before Justice R. L. Selden.

Pickett is described as one of the smoothest individuals in the state. It is claimed bills to the amount of at least $4,000 will be brought before him to face, in court.
